EMERGENCY EVACUATIONS

Wildfires can start and spread with no warning, which makes it critical that you have a response plan in place. In preparation for the most severe emergencies, the City of Helena has designated evacuation routes to help first responders manage traffic while getting your household out of harm's way. We encourage all residents to Make Your Plan, Practice Your Response, and Protect Your Household.

KNOW YOUR EVACUATION ROUTES

When evacuations are requested or ordered, it is important that you respond quickly and responsibly. While evacuating, you need to understand where the threat is located and what evacuation route is most appropriate. Also remember, first responders may be utilizing evacuation routes. Always make room for fire engines, ambulances and law enforcement vehicles while safely leaving the area.

TEMPORARY REFUGE AREAS

If evacuation routes are obstructed by smoke, incoming emergency equipment, or directly threatened by fire, you should utilize a temporary refuge area. Examples include, behind a retaining wall, large lawn, or parking area.
